

Gaming Laboratories International (GLI®) Invites ICE 2018 Attendees to Make Success the Only Option

GLI on Stand N3-210;

CEO James Maida Speaking on Panel

“Business Leaders: Doing Business in Indian Country” on 6 February

HAARLEM, The Netherlands (22 January 2018) – In an ever-changing world of new technologies, at ICE 2018 Gaming Laboratories International (GLI®) will have a team of collaborative industry experts on its stand to help regulators, operators, and suppliers to pave a way for success.

GLI will be on stand N3-210, where its team of global experts will meet with attendees and present the many ways GLI can help regulators, operators, and suppliers in land-based gaming, iGaming, and lottery make success the only option.

Additionally, GLI President/CEO James Maida will address ICE attendees on the panel “Business Leaders: Doing Business in Indian Country” at 14:30 on 6 February. Tribal gaming is a $32 billion a year industry, and GLI has been working with Tribal leaders, operators, and regulators since the beginning. Maida will help attendees understand the similarities and differences between Tribal gaming and the global market.

“Each of the 1,000 employees at GLI is committed to delivering the highest levels of quality and accuracy, rapid testing times, and supreme resource capacity to our clients in land-based, online, and lottery. We are thrilled with the opportunity to present our leading services at ICE, and we look forward to welcoming the industry to this outstanding event,” said GLI EMEA Managing Director Martin Britton.

In addition to its land-based services, at ICE, GLI will be discussing its global leadership in testing all areas of iGaming, including:
