

Supplier, Regulator, and Operator Attendees at G2E Benefit from Gaming Laboratories International's (GLI®) Tested, Proven, Trusted Expertise

LAS VEGAS (October 1, 2018) – The world is open for business, and in booth #4430 at G2E 2018, supplier, regulator, and operator attendees can benefit from Gaming Laboratories International's \(GLI®\) globally tested, proven, and trusted products, services, and expertise.

Attendees can register for a free pass to the G2E show floor using this link, then visit booth #4430 during G2E 2018 and learn how GLI can help open more markets to supplier products, help boost security and compliance, and gain critical insights into new technologies.

GLI is the one and only independent testing and certification lab that can provide suppliers with access to every existing and emerging gaming jurisdiction. Attendees can meet with GLI's team of experts and discover GLI's unsurpassed portfolio of testing, assessment, and certification services along with innovative "regulation ready" tools such as GLI Link® and Point.Click.Transfer.® GLI can take your products everywhere in the world quickly, accurately, reliably, and cost-effectively.

GLI will also discuss its innovative award-winning Test Automation, which works 24/7 to help suppliers get their products on casino floors even faster, and with more quality and reliability than ever before.

"Wherever you want to take your product, we have a solution to get you there, cost-effectively and with less risk," said VP of Global Services Ian Hughes. "We are committed to quality testing that is done right the first time, which saves suppliers money, and gets them to market faster."

Beyond the booth, GLI will lend its expertise to several panels during G2E. VP of Business Development Melissa Aarskaug will moderate the panel "The Power of Tech I: Suppliers' Perspectives in Leveraging Technology to Bring Added Value to Your Customers."

VP of Government Relations and General Counsel Kevin Mullally will moderate a Regional Roundup panel discussion as part of IAGA Best Practices Day. Mullally will also participate in an International Masters of Gaming Law (IMGL) Masterclass® on the topic: "Can Responsible Gaming Regulation Keep Pace with Advancements in Gaming."

Director of Latin America and Caribbean Government Relations and Business Development Karen Sierra-Hughes will speak at the networking breakfast "Sports Betting in Latin America."

Sports wagering will be a major discussion topic at G2E, and GLI continues to lead in the space, the latest example being the release of its highly-anticipated standard, "GLI-33: Event Wagering Systems," the world's first event-wagering technical standard, developed to ensure the integrity of the dramatically expanding U.S. sports betting market.
