

MEDIA ADISORY

QuickSpin Evolution to Highlight Ainsworth Game Technology Booth at G2E 2019

Company showcasing more than 10 new Wheel games; Displaying more than 125 gaming cabinets

LAS VEGAS – The evolution of the popular QuickSpin® brand will highlight offerings from Ainsworth Game Technology (ASX:AGI) (“Ainsworth”) at the Global Gaming Expo in the Sand’s Exposition Center in Las Vegas from October 15-17.

QuickSpin’s high performing titles such as Super Charged 7s, Super Lantern 8s, Super Crystal 7s and the recently released MultiPlay Super Charged 7s will take center stage alongside at least six new wheel games designed for maximum player engagement and strong casino operator return-on-investment. Additionally, Ainsworth will display more than 125 gaming cabinets to meet the needs for customer partners in Class III, Class II, Tribal Lottery System and Historical Horse Racing markets.

“G2E is the perfect time for Ainsworth to showcase the growth of our product lines, especially in the QuickSpin family,” said Ainsworth President – North America Joe Bertolone. “We will truly show how through developing QuickSpin content we are evolving the wheel and evolving Ainsworth’s core product offerings.”

Visitors to Ainsworth booth #1259 will see several new QuickSpin titles that offer innovative uses of the giant wheel on the sleek A640 portrait screen cabinet. Turbo Charged 7s offers four unique Linked Progressive jackpots with QuickSpin game play. The multi-denom configurable titles give penny players chance to chase top awards starting at $2,500, with even bigger jackpots for larger denoms up to a huge $25,000 jackpot for 10-cent players.

Super Lit Vegas adds to the QuickSpin family by offering a persistent state style of game that enables players to collect wheel spins over seven spin cycles. On the seventh spin wilds and wheel symbols are revealed for big wins.

Yet another offering – Super Charged 7s Classic -- takes QuickSpin gameplay to the High Denomination market with a five-line or nine-line game. This new title maintains a high wheel spin frequency on 25-cent and $1 denominations.

Additionally, Ainsworth will show Super Sonic 7s, a version of Super Charged 7s built for the EVO® and A600 dual screen cabinets, alongside several other versions for QuickSpin created to expand the power Ainsworth’s top performing brand.

High Denomination in Ainsworth's DNA

Ainsworth High Denomination content has been among the top earning games in North America for several years. The development of these math models continues strong with the upcoming release of several new titles built specifically for high denom players.

Ainsworth's booth will show how Ainsworth's top performing content is being leveraged across platforms, as titles like Mustang Money 2, Dollar Chief, Dollar Action and Grand Dragon can now be placed on single-screen cabinets, including the A640 and A560SL Noir.

Elsewhere in the booth's high limit area, casino operators can check out two new Symbol Driven Linked Progressive games built specifically for high denom: Kanga Riches and Fortune Ox

Ainsworth Content Library Grows

It's not just QuickSpin. Ainsworth's content continues to flourish with dozens of new titles across single and dual screen cabinets. In fact, several of Ainsworth's new offerings can be placed on both the A640 and EVO cabinets to ensure customers have access to a wide array of the Company's best titles.

New brands like Ultimate Upgrade, a persistent state game with five play mechanics and Electric Cash, a Hold and Spin game with a Linked Progressive jackpot, can be placed on multiple styles of Ainsworth cabinet.

The A640, Ainsworth top selling box, offers a 40-inch high-definition LCD game screen, touchscreen LCD button deck and 27-inch LCD topper. In addition to the wealth of QuickSpin content, new titles debuting on the A640 include Reel Force, a series of time-on-device style games with a Cascading Reels feature, and Galaga™, part of Ainsworth's partnership with BANDAI NAMCO Entertainment Inc.

Central Determination Gaming Flourishing

The past two years has brought continued success to Ainsworth in Central Determination Gaming markets, including expanding in Class II jurisdictions across the U.S., growth in Washington State markets and the successful implementation of Historical Horse Racing games.

Both the A640 and EVO cabinets featured at G2E will showcase plenty of fresh new content, including market exclusive QuickSpin games. At the show, Ainsworth engineers and product managers will be available to discuss in depth the unique systems to run Central Determination Gaming.

MEDIA CONTACT

Mike Trask
Director of Marketing and Product Management – North America
(702) 954-3094
mtrask@agtslots.com

Visit AGTslots.com for more information

###