BMM SETS THE BAR ON TESTING AND SERVICE EXCELLENCE WORLDWIDE

ICE[&]
LONDON

4-6 FEBRUARY, 2020
BOOTH N3-420

BMM Testlabs, the world's original gaming test lab and product compliance consultancy, is pleased to exhibit at one of gaming's biggest events, ICE London 2020, from February 4-6, 2020.

President and CFO, Gene Chayevsky commented, "ICE London presents an unmatched networking opportunity for attendees and exhibitors alike. There is no better place than ICE London to kick off BMM's 2020 global event calendar."

Chayevsky continued, "BMM takes a proactive approach to keep abreast of all industry trends and challenges, such as new regulated markets, new market segments, and new tools, such as artificial intelligence and blockchain. Our talented leadership and management teams from around the world provide our partners with exceptional value through our unique consultancy methods and knowledge of these industry advancements. Our people, industry expertise and universal market awareness truly differentiate us from our competitors."

Marzia Turrini, EVP for Europe & South America added, "BMM continues to set the bar on testing and service excellence worldwide. Our top priorities are maintaining the highest level of independent quality testing in the world, working with regulators, manufacturers and operators to ensure exceptional results in every gaming sector in every regulated market. At ICE London this year, we are looking forward to meeting and consulting with attendees to discuss how we may align our world-class testing solutions with their technical compliance needs."

We invite all visitors of ICE London to visit BMM's booth N3-420 to consult with our experts for their testing, cyber security and compliance needs.
