

Spectrum, Global Gaming Advisor to Clarion, Supports ICE VOX Conference in London

The Spectrum Group of Companies, a global advisory consortium with locations on three continents, will have major speaking roles at ICE VOX 2019 to be held here 6-8 February at the Excel Centre.

Spectrum, which includes Spectrum Gaming Group, Spectrum Gaming Capital, Spectrum Asia, Spectrum Gaming Sports Group and Spectrum eSports Advisors, serves as Global Advisory Partner to Clarion Events, which produces ICE VOX, and is the global leader in gaming conferences and events.

- Spectrum Gaming Group Managing Director Fredric Gushin will moderate Japan IR and Asia Roundtables on Monday, 4 February.
- Spectrum Gaming Capital CEO Rob Heller, also a principal in Spectrum Gaming Sports Group will moderate the panel: "Creating a sustainable sports betting market - policy for newly regulated jurisdictions" and "The Americas Roundtable," both on Monday 4 February.
 - Spectrum Gaming Group Managing Director Michael Pollock, also a principal of Spectrum Gaming Sports Group, will chair the Boardroom sessions on Monday, 4 February, and will moderate a panel on "Non-gaming entertainment as the future of the European land-based industry?" on 4 February.
- Spectrum Gaming Sports Group Principal Lee Richardson, also CEO of Gaming Economics, will lead the Totally Gaming Academy 2019 Sportsbook Management Programme, at the TGA Theatre on Wednesday, 6 February

About Spectrum: Spectrum Gaming Group is a non-partisan consultancy that specializes in the economics, regulation and policy of legalized gambling worldwide. We have provided independent research and professional services to public- and private-sector clients since 1993. We bring wide industry perspective to every engagement, having worked in 36 US states and territories and in 47 countries on six continents.

About Clarion Events: Clarion Events provides a full range of services to the global gaming industry, including exhibitions, conferences, technical training and digital information. Clarion's gaming brands are delivered globally and attract more than 35,000 customers annually in locations spanning every continent