

Clarion collaborate with SunTrust Humphrey to curate C-Level Investors' Day at ICE North America

Clarion Gaming, which organises many of gaming's most successful international business events has partnered with SunTrust Robinson Humphrey to deliver the first ever TEN (The Executive Network) Investors' Day taking place on Monday, May 13, part of the inaugural ICE North America (May 13-15, Boston MA, USA). SunTrust, the full-service corporate and investment bank active across 14 major US cities, is working with TEN to bring the worlds of investment, gambling, betting, sports and media closer together in order to discuss, develop and explore investment opportunities.

Explaining the vision behind the first TEN event to be staged on the continent of North America, Clarion Gaming's Dan Stone said: "We always work in partnership with the industry to produce events that deliver opportunity and facilitate business and the TEN Investors' Day is no exception.

"Working with SunTrust has enabled us to curate a day of learning and networking which is focussed on investment opportunities in what is one of world gaming's most exciting markets. The C-Level strategic decision makers and thought leaders who are part of 'The Executive Network' constitute exactly the right audience to be part of the first invitation-only ICE North America Investors' Day. The initiative has been constructed around four main panels featuring portfolio managers and senior analysts from leading asset managers who will provide insight into the investment opportunity through the value chain. The specialist nature of the initiative necessitates it being invite-only and open to members of The Executive Network and investors who are part of ICE North America."

ICE North America (May 13-15 in Boston, MA, USA) has exceeded pre-launch forecasts with leading exhibitors, sponsors and attendees from across the globe confirming their attendance. A consolidation of Clarion Gaming's US assets to create a single large scale business event, ICE North America covers the key verticals of sports betting, interactive gaming, esports, iLottery and affiliate marketing.

To find out more about ICE North America, go to icenorthamerica.com.

For more information on the Investors' Day, contact Gabriela.DaSilva@clariongaming.com