INTRODUCTION

Fantini Research will once again provide video coverage of G2E that will put you on the floor of the gaming industry's largest trade show to see many of the new products offered by the leading gaming equipment suppliers.

We will also be conducting our exclusive CEO One-on-One Interview series with the leading supplier CEOs. Discussions will allow CEOs to discuss their companies views on the gaming industry and its future and what's new at the show.

CEO One-on-Ones to be published Monday October 14 and Tuesday October 15:

- American Gaming Association
- AGS
- Ainsworth
- Aristocrat
- Cooper Levenson
- Eilers & Krejcik Gaming
- Everi
- Gaming Arts
- GAN
- GLI
- IGT
- Incredible Technologies
- Inspired Entertainment
- Interblock
- Konami
- Novomatic
- Scientific Games
- William Hill

Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday October 16, Fantini will bring you at-booth product demonstrations from both the traditional supplier companies and emerging companies.

Regular alerts will be sent to subscribers and posted on social media as both CEO One-on-One and at-booth product demos are posted.

All videos will be posted at www.FantiniResearch.com under the conventions tab. Content will remain on the website for a full year allowing you to search back at any time.

Fantini's

Virtual Trade Show

Extend your G2E investment year-round with space on Fantini's Virtual Trade Show.

This is a 24/7/365 online exhibit space.

Your company's "online booth" is at your disposal to showcase an unlimited number of products to the gaming industry's decision makers.

Among the benefits:

- The ability to post new product photos and videos yourself, which will in turn be highlighted in Fantini's Gaming Report.
- The online exhibit space includes a company description, key listing of executives, sales contact information and posting of every company press release.
- Exposure to the most elite audience of gaming industry decision makers with alerts in Fantini's Gaming Report whenever new products or press releases are added to your booth.

Cost is just $1,000 a year – a fraction of the cost of a booth at any physical trade show.

OBSESSED

BOOTH NO. 1253. PUBLICLY TRADED
IN US, TICKER SYMBOL AGS

AGS will show why it's "Obsessed with the Game" again this year with its largest showing of new slot, table and interactive products ever, including two new slot cabinets.

The research and development team outdid themselves with three new hardware innovations this year, CEO David Lopez said. Along with the two new cabinets AGS will debut the PAX S single-deck packet shuffler for specialty games.

It will be clear how AGS' obsession with the game is driving an incredible player experience to anyone that visits AGS' nearly 7,000-square-foot booth, Lopez added.

In addition to AGS' must-see products there will also be more than 30 new game titles, including 21 for the Orion Portrait and 14 for the Orion Upright.

Must-see products:

- Orion Rise. AGS' tallest cabinet at more than eight-and-a-half feet includes a 55-inch 4K top portrait monitor to showcase jackpots, bonus events and wheel excitement. It's paired with a 24-inch HD touchscreen for game play.

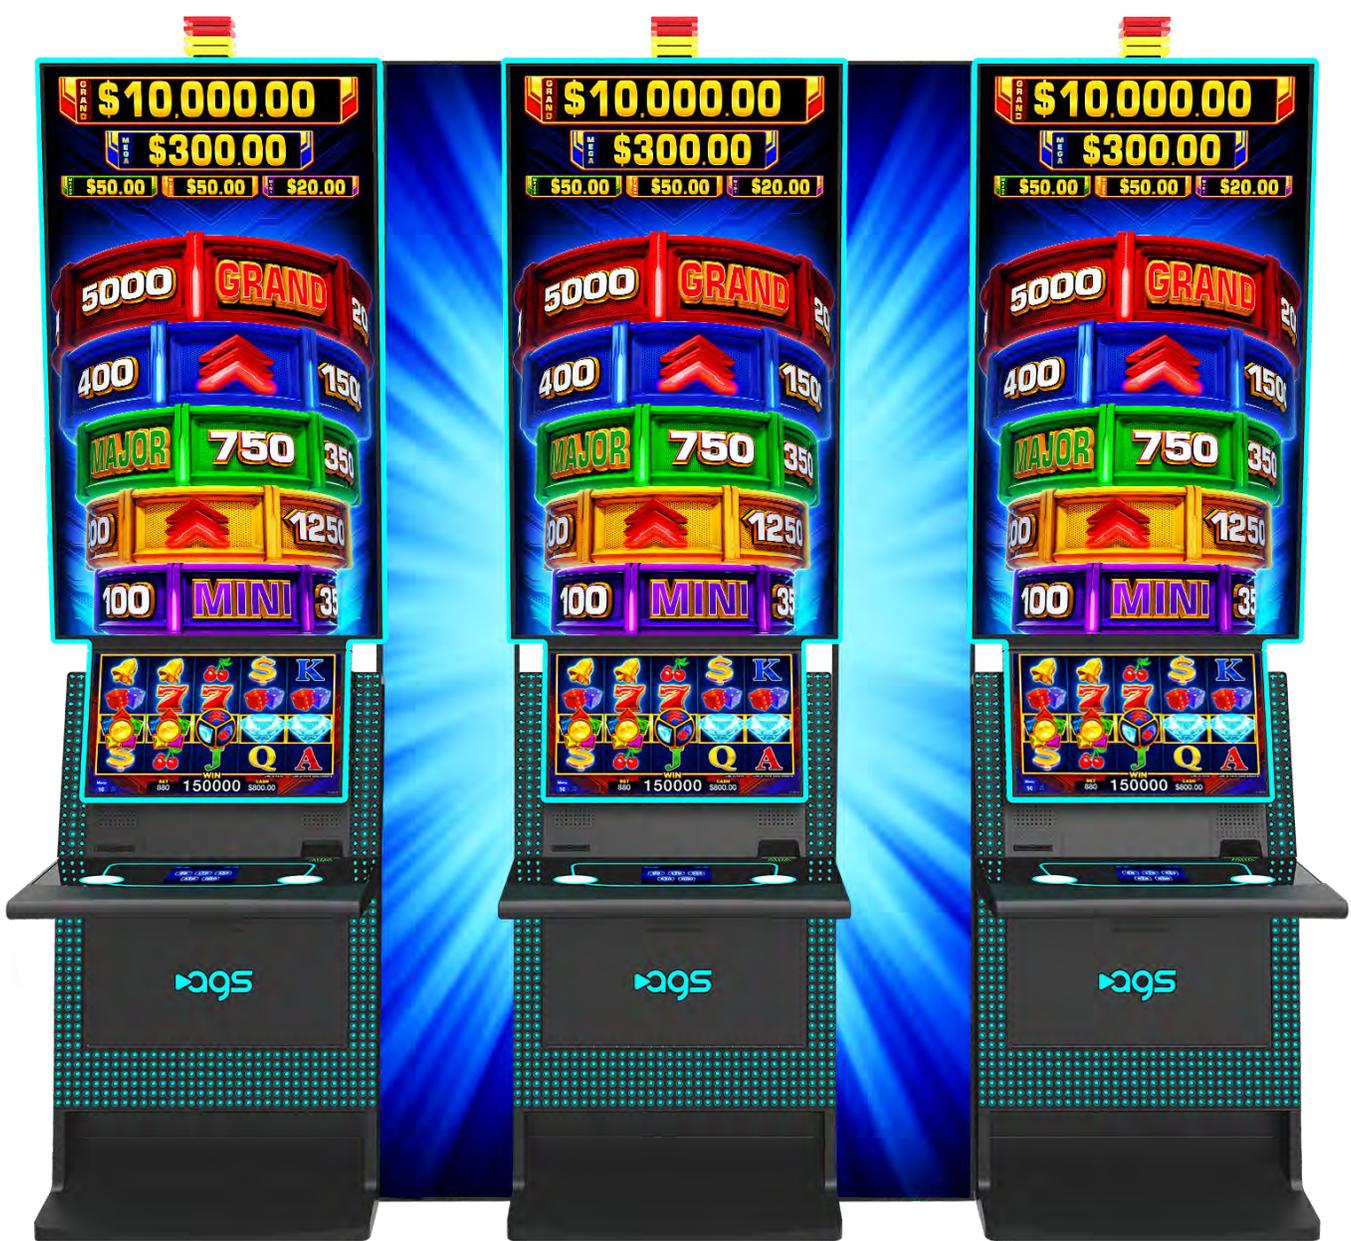

The 21.5-inch HD topper and the signature U-shaped lighting design also add to the cabinet's attraction. There's also optional eight-foot-tall signage that adds to the appeal for a linear bank of Orion Rise cabinets.

- Orion 49C. The leased and for-sale cabinet includes a 49-inch curved 4K touchscreen

The 49C is AGS' first curved cabinet that's intended to give the player a more immersive gaming experience.

to give a more immersive playing experience.

The 49C also includes a 21.5-inch HD topper.

- Bonus Spin Xtreme. The new progressive table side bet system includes three wheels to give all players a community prize and one player an enhanced prize.

Bonus Spin Xtreme can link to all table games within a casino and share one progressive jackpot, which has never been offered before. That also means the progressive meters will grow much more quickly, which adds to the attraction for players.

TRADED IN AUSTRALIA, TICKER SYMBOL: AGI

Ainsworth will show off a slate of new games for its A640 and EVO cabinets at G2E including eight iterations of QuickSpin that will be new to the trade show.

In total, Ainsworth will have more than 125 game cabinets featuring Class II, Class III, tribal lottery system and historical horse racing markets at its booth this year.

Ainsworth will truly show how the company is evolving its core product offerings through continued development of the QuickSpin brand, Ainsworth's North American President Joe Bertolone said.

There will be at least six new wheel games from the QuickSpin brand. Super Charged 7s Classic will bring the brand into the high denomination market with a five-line or nine-line game with up to $1 denominations.

Super Lit Vegas adds to the QuickSpin brand with a persistent state style of game, which leads to players picking up symbols that remain in place over seven spins. Those symbols then turn wild on the seventh spin.

Ainsworth expects Rio Grand Los Toritos, a follow up to the successful Rio Grande Rapids, to be a popular feature at its booth.

There will be four themes under the brand that include options for bonuses, free games and other features.

On the left is Cai Fu Journey from the Ultimate Upgrade brand, which includes persistent play mechanics. In the middle is Super Sonic 7s on the EVO cabinet. On the right is Super Lit Vegas on the A640 cabinet, which mixes persistent play with the QuickSpin brand.

There will also be new brands like Ultimate Upgrade, another persistent state style of game.

New licensed content will be shown on the A640 as well like Galaga.

Must-see products:

- Super Lit Vegas. The game pairs the strength of the QuickSpin brand with the persistent state style of game.

- High denomination content. Ainsworth will display two new symbol driven linked progressive games built specifically for high denominations, Kanga Riches and Fortune Ox.

Ainsworth will also have a separate high limit area in its booth.

- Central determination gaming. Ainsworth will again bring its historical horse racing and Class II content to G2E.

The A640 and EVO cabinets will both show plenty of fresh content, including exclusive QuickSpin games for either market.

ARISTOCRAT™

BOOTH NO. 1133. PUBLICLY TRADED
IN AUSTRALIA, TICKER SYMBOL: ALL

Aristocrat enters this G2E focused on what's next, which includes new hardware, games and a brand-new bartop.

On the content side, Buffalo Gold Revolution is launching on the MarsX cabinet with a whole new spin on the Buffalo Gold theme: progressive jackpots and a wheel bonus.

Dollar Storm, an evolution of Lightning Link and Dragon Link, will be available for lease on the MarsX.

The MarsX will also feature for-sale themes like Fu Dai Lian Lian, the latest of Aristocrat's Gold Stacks 88, and new themes from Mighty Cash like Mighty Cash Ultra.

Aristocrat is also bringing new Class II content from VGT, including The Walking Dead II and Buffalo Grand launching on the Arc Double cabinet. On the Helix XT will be Hunt for Neptune's Gold.

There will also be five new exclusive families for Class II.

Aristocrat is also displaying its Mobile nCompass and Branded Bonus systems. Mobile nCompass is a digital option for cardless play.

Branded Bonus is a bonus program on Buffalo for the Oasis 360 with two system-driven bonus models.

Must-see products:

- Winner's World Multi-Game bartop cabinet. The cabinet offers a fresh take on the bartop play experience with Buffalo keno games, video poker and access to some of Aristocrat's top slot titles including Buffalo and Buffalo Gold.

The cabinet has the industry's largest floating 23.5-inch LCD titled monitor, a USB phone charger and Aristocrat's smart-drink tracking light.

- Buffalo Gold Revolution. One of the gaming industry's most popular themes is launching on the MarsX cabinet.

- Star Trek: The Next Generation. Aristocrat licensed the Star Trek: The Next Generation brand from CBS Consumer Products to launch on the EDGE X cabinet.

The EDGE X has two curved 43-inch LCD screens stacked with panoramic views.

BOOTH NO. 2659

Aruze intends to Ignite Fun at this year's G2E through the introduction of its Activ-Play series of games, multiple packaging options for its core content and its diverse game portfolio for core cabinets.

Two titles exclusively for the Muso Curve-43 Hybrid that bring that change up the typical slot style are Dream Cash Dancing All Night and Dream Cash Fabulous Vegas.

The two include no spinning reels and instead use a pick feature for the base game. The game lets the player select their volatility as different colored items correlate to different win amounts.

The games also include a jackpot feature, wheel feature and free picks.

Aruze's popular spooky-but-fun-themed Jack's brand will bring Jack's Haunted Wins and Jack's Winning Spell to the new Muso Triple-27 Hybrid.

These medium-volatility games are rich with features including random wilds, prize reels and a wild reel spin. The two also include symbol holding, which will lead to credits for each symbol held at the end of the feature.

Aruze is also known for its success with Shoot to Win Craps and expects Lucky Roulette to be no different.

The electronic table game launched with summer with great success, the company said, and offers a physical wheel and ball with projection mapping for an exclusive side bet.

Must-see products:

- Dream Cash on Muso Curve-43 Hybrid. The two Dream Cash titles, Dancing All Night and Fabulous Vegas, are exclusively available on the Muso Curve-43 Hybrid.

- Jack's Haunted Wins and Jack's Winning Spell on Muso Triple-27 Hybrid. The two medium-volatility titles include multiple features to keep players engaged.

- Lucky Roulette. Aruze will show off the football configuration of 12 stations at G2E.

The game's Jackpot Chance side bet is a highly configurable progressive option that selects the spots randomly before each spin.

The game also includes a live feed of the wheel spin on player terminals.

EVERI

BOOTH NO. 1150.

PUBLICLY TRADED

IN US, TICKER

SYMBOL: EVRI

Two loyalty kiosks Everi will have on display at G2E this year.

Everi said its unwavering commitment to innovation to transform player experiences will be on full display this year at G2E.

Everi plans to show off how its suite of systems can create a digital neighborhood through connecting all of its services. Its new loyalty platform will serve as an activity hub on the casino floor for players to check in and see what offers are waiting for them.

Everi will also have two fairly hard to miss games on the floor this year.

The Vault on Empire Arena follows the success of the Discovery Shark Week game on the Empire Arena cabinet. The Vault will feature three base games with a Diamond Rush bonus feature that grabs the attention of everyone playing.

Next is Zoltar on the Player Classic cabinet. The premium-linked mechanical bank will include two Zoltar themes with thrilling bonus features and multipliers that will draw players in to learn more of Zoltar's wisdom.

Zoltar isn't the only licensed brand making a G2E debut. Press Your Luck and Snoop Dogg Presents The Joker's Wild will both launch on the Renegade 3600.

Press Your Luck has two base games with a hold-and-respin bonus while Snoop Dogg Presents The Joker's Wild used matched symbols across three reels and answering questions.

On the cash side of Everi's FinTech business will be the RCS-Active and RCS-700. Both are powerful cash recyclers

Operators will save time by not counting cash moving in and out of the vault and increase the accuracy and accountability of their cashiers.

Must-see products:

- The Vault on Empire Arena. The Vault will show off three base games on the Empire Arena cabinet with a community bonus feature that prompts players to steal diamonds worth credits from other players.

- Zoltar 5X Pay and Zoltar Triple Jackpot on Player Classic. The enormous premium linked mechanical bank setup will have two new games featuring the Zoltar brand.

Both games include a free spin bonus with Zoltar predicting a multiplier between two and 10 times.

- Loyalty platform. Everi will provide demos of its loyalty marketing platform as well as display its enroll and promo kiosks.

GALAXY GAMING

BOOTH NO. 4016

If Galaxy Gaming's new logo made you stop and notice, then the corporate-wide rebranding has done its job.

The rebranding reflects a new visual identity and its growth initiatives following its internal moves to reinforce Galaxy's commitment to operators, regulators, shareholders and team members.

But the changes aren't just reflected visually. Galaxy will present the most new products, content and features within its progressive portfolio the company ever has at G2E.

Galaxy has grown beyond being a side-bet company over the last two years with more content delivered digitally and customized for clients, CEO Todd Cravens said.

Operators can look forward to seeing progressive technology not currently available on the market at Galaxy's booth, he added.

Lucky 9 combines baccarat and blackjack with the winner having the point total closest to nine.

Must-see products:

- Lucky 9. This house-banked game is based off baccarat and blackjack. The object is to win by having the point total closest to nine.

- Suited or Booted. This clear-cut progressive will hit for players if a suited ace through five are hit in the first two player's cards, the dealer's first two cards and the player's first hit card.

- Ricochet Poker. This game lets the players and dealer compete head-to-head for a central pot. The game is dealt face up, taking the bluffing out of poker and just leaving the analytical challenge of the game.

Players then play in ricochet fashion starting with the lowest hand.

The Suited or Booted progressive hits if the player's first two cards, the dealer's first two cards and the player's first hit are suited ace through five.

Gamblit says it will continue to pioneer the gaming industry with a show-stopping Gamblit Arcade experience this G2E.

The company is bringing new hardware, including a single-player cabinet and bartop unit, along with more than 20 games to the floor this year.

New game debuts include match-style Gem Flux, treasure hunting Jumping Heroes, a fast-paced word spelling game Lucky Words Connect, pachinko-style Rob N Roll and a new Jetpack Joyride title.

And with PAC-MAN Cash Chase on display, booth attendees might get a chance for some selfies with the star himself.

GameCo™

The Video Game Casino™

BOOTH NOS. 2609 AND 5034

GameCo will split its show across two booths to display new cabinets and games in one and the Multiplayer Arena technology in another.

One of GameCo's new cabinets this year, Katana, is scheduled to launch in the second quarter of next year with games focused on the branded IP the company has licensed.

The cabinets can come in banks up to eight and will feature the GamersEdge patented technology that solves the over-hold issue for skill-based games.

Branded IP games on display will include SoulCaliber II: Casino Edition and Terminator 2.

Must-see products:

- Katana. GameCo's first proprietary cabinet features a 4K 42-inch screen, a premium sound system and other features to give players an interactive experience.

The cabinet, made for games to be played with a touchscreen, includes a cutout at the front of the cabinet where the button panel would typically sit for up-close gameplay.

- Bartop VGM. GameCo's entry into the bartop market will include its All-Star Hoops game, the pick-and-win Riches of the Golden Dragon and the match-three Mystery of the Secret Temple.

Multiplayer Arena lets players compete head-to-head with the casino taking a rake or allows the casino to turn on tournament mode. All-Star Hoops and SoulCalibur II: Casino Edition will be on display with Multiplayer Arena.

Bartop VGM will launch with three games built in.

GamingArts®

BOOTH NO. 4449

Gaming Arts is approaching this G2E with the Play Now theme as the games launched at last year's show are now on casino floors across the country.

Last year served as a preview and a promise of what Gaming Arts had to come. Now, that promise is fulfilled with a new library of creative and quality games.

The Wu Series, or Dancing Series, will launch with two titles Wu Chan Chu and Wu Xi Shi. The cute dancing Toad and Lion are sure to catch players' eyes on the floor and then interact with the game as well.

The two will jump from the top screen to each Wu symbol that will give random awards that range from one times the player's bet all the way to a grand progressive.

The Inferno Wheel series includes the first-ever patent-pending persistent wheel game. The Phocus Wheel topper has a virtual LCD wheel that emulates a physical wheel and angled LED light rings that allow for better visibility for the player.

Every wild that hits on the second, third or fourth wheel expands to make the entire wheel wild and increases the value of one wedge. The more a wedge is improved, the color will change from yellow until finally white hot.

Also using the patent-pending Phocus Wheel is Hamster Libre, which combines the cute

BOOTH NO. 4411. PUBLICLY TRADED IN US, TICKER SYMBOL: GPN

Global Payments Gaming says it's ready to show how innovative technology can take a casino's guest experience and back-office operations to the next level.

VIP Mobility is what Global Payments called the industry-leading mobile wallet that can easily fund slot and table play.

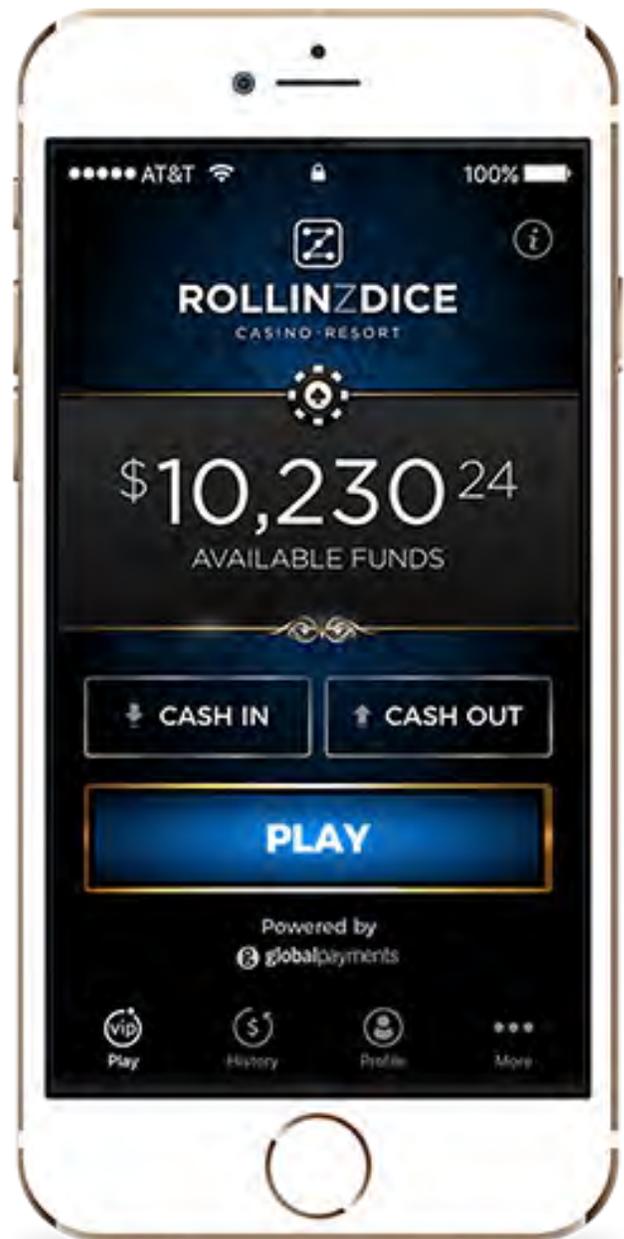

The system lets players create digital TITO tickets on their mobile devices by scanning a QR code to reload their slot balances or get chips at tables.

Global Payments will also show off its enhancements to VIP Shield, which provide Title 31 and IRS reporting assistance.

Introduced last year, the system helps eliminate manual processes surrounding anti-money laundering requirements. The new update also includes a wider range of reports and reporting tools to create more visibility between the cage, surveillance and finance departments.

Global Payments will also have multiple kiosks on hand, including the all-in-one LightSpeed Kiosks. They can execute a high volume of transactions like TITO, bill breaking, ATM, e-check and cash advance.

Their high-resolution screens and branding capabilities also make the kiosks into a marketing machine.

VIP Mobility gives players the ability to cash in or out by scanning a QR code.

incredible TECHNOLOGIES®

BOOTH NO. 4047

Incredible Technologies will show current and future customers how the slot supplier can Reshape Your Floor with more than 50 flexible bank configurations with high performing and proven game content.

Incredible is following its successful Infinity V55 core cabinet with two new iterations, Infinity Pilot and Infinity Summit. Both cabinets use a 4K 55-inch portrait screen but deliver the gaming experience differently.

The Infinity Pilot creates an immersive gaming and individual gaming experience by integrating two angled 4K portrait monitors on either side of the main 55-inch monitor.

Incredible has gotten creative with how to make the uniquely-shaped machine fit with some never-before-seen configurations like the Dogbone and Gear, which look just like they sound.

With the Infinity Summit, players are greeted by an angled 4K display above the 55-inch main screen that is used for bonus features, progressives and graphics across multiple screens in a linked bank.

Must-see products:

- Infinity Pilot. The immersive cabinet launched with two game families and two unique titles within each family including Crazy Money Double Deluxe, a follow up to one of Incredible's

Inspired will show off what makes the company Essential Entertainment this year with its premium suite of content, like proven high-performing features on a variety of VLT themes.

Inspired will again display its Virtual Sports content including its Virtual Football as the company is still the only provider of an American football virtual game.

Offering Virtual Sports is a necessity for operators now as they complement real sports betting, Inspired said. The face-paced action and simplicity appeals to the hard-to-reach millennial demographic, according to the company.

New hardware will include the Valor cabinet, which will come with a variety of titles that can meet every customer need, whether that's improving time on device or adding more volatility.

A big feature at Inspired's booth this year will be NHL Legend Jaromir Jagr as the company introduces Jagr's Super Slots. The six-by-four reel interactive game includes stacked wilds that can deliver wins up to 48 times.

Jagr will be on hand Wednesday for a meet and greet.

Also on the interactive side is the new Furlong Fortunes Sprint.

The game combines Inspired's interactive

Interblock is bringing its revamped Universal Cabinet and new features to its popular Stadium setup which the company says will revolutionize how gaming looks at electronic table games.

In total, Interblock will display more than a dozen new electronic table game products this G2E.

G2E has always been the focal point where Interblock shares its latest innovations and this year will be unparalleled to others, CEO John Connelly said. The primary focus is to diversify its products and the perception of the electronic table game segment as a whole.

One star for Interblock is sure to be its Universal Cabinet, which is a standalone cabinet with slot-like hardware that will support a variety of games.

Two distinct features include MiniStar Roulette, which lets players spin the wheel as fast as they'd like up to more than 120 times an hour, and MiniStar Dice, which responds to six levels of pressure to make the dice jump just how the player wants.

Interblock also wanted to focus on how casino operators can best utilize their Pulse Arena Stadium footprints when the party isn't on, like weekdays.

There are now two new tournament modes that can be accessed from any Stadium terminal when triggered by a dealer that offers a slot-like roulette tournament and a more thought-based blackjack tournament.

Must-see products:

- Universal Cabinet. Casinos can now add a variety of electronic table games in a smaller, flexible footprint that gives players a table game that moves at their own pace.

- Dual Roulette. This electronic table game offers multi-game and multi-play functionality with two roulette games on the same screen. The wheels are synchronized to let the player bet on one wheel while waiting for the result from the other.

The games include one red wheel and one blue wheel with the same color trim around their 27-inch screens that display the action to avoid confusion.

- Golden Ball Roulette. This twist on standard roulette includes a golden ball side bet to drive additional hold without adding zeros.

Konami is bringing its latest innovations this year to G2E, with a new twist on its systems offerings with SYNK Vision.

The SYNKROS casino management system will offer live demos throughout the show, including some of its top advancements like SYNK Vision facial recognition.

SYNK Vision uses facial recognition to identify, rate and reward all players whether they are part of the player loyalty program or not. If they are part of the program, SYNK Vision will recognize them with a welcome message without any manual input necessary.

Konami is launching the new J-curved cabinet with two hard-hitting games to support the launch.

First is All Aboard, which has had a successful run in Australia. Also launching on the cabinet is a slot game based off the iconic Silent Hill video game.

Konami paid attention to the little details on its latest cabinet. The button interface is custom-engineered with a lit deck, classic dual spin buttons, a generous surface space for drinks and other personal effects.

Additional conveniences include a wireless phone charging pad, USB port and a hook for purses.

Konami's KX 43 cabinet will debut six linked progressive series that all have must-see play mechanics, like the Fortune Mint series.

Must-see products:

- New cabinet. Konami's latest video slot cabinet includes a J-curved 49-inch 4K Ultra HD display.
- Fortune Mint. The series is launching with two titles, Fu Gui You Yu and Fu Xing Gao Zhao. Both are five-reel, scatter play games with multiple bonus opportunities based on the player's bet level.
- SYNK Vision. The use of facial recognition to track players regardless of a player account gives operators the ability to see, analyze, rate and reward all carded and uncarded activity on their floor for the first time.

Fortune Mint will launch with two titles on the KX 43.

NOVOMATIC

BOOTH NO. 1259

Novomatic Americas will again show off its Winning Technology that includes an extensive portfolio of new games, progressive jackpots, sports betting kiosks, systems and electronic table games.

This G2E will be a celebration of a tremendous year of growth for Novomatic Americas with the success of Thunder Cash Link and the ActionBook self-service sports betting kiosk, Novomatic Americas CEO Rick Meitzler said.

Novomatic is especially focused on its progressives and launching multiple new progressive products lines and will showcase Samurai Beauty, which will include a high-visibility presentation with a giant video wall and choreographed content, Meitzler said.

New products for the Illinois and Pennsylvania VLT markets will have a dedicated booth-within-a-booth location.

The myACP casino management system will include new player recognition programs for Illinois and Pennsylvania and a new NOVO Rewards player recognition kiosk.

Also on display will be the ActionBook kiosk, which will give customers the latest in sports betting capabilities, Novomatic said.

Novomatic will also have Greentube executives on hand to talk about the company's Scientific Games will again keep most of its content behind a curtain this year as the company shows off how it will “Reimagine Play” with its new games, revolutionary technology and player-centric systems.

Sports betting took the US by storm over the past year and a half and Scientific Games’ OpenSports platform can deliver a complete solution to a sports betting operator from the OpenBet proprietary betting engines to the OpenTrade managed trading services.

One of Scientific Games’ biggest themes this year will be how technology can benefit both the player and the casino operator. The company wants to show off an entertainment ecosystem with advanced solutions, systems and technology that Scientific Games hopes both players and customers should love.

One of Scientific Games’ iconic titles, Cash Spin, will be shown with a unique twist in Ultimate Cash Spin on the new TwinStar J43 Motion Wheel cabinet.

The cabinet includes wheel hardware that allows for an interactive game experience by physically allowing players to spin a wheel for free games, credit prizes and jackpots.

Scientific Games will also show off the next evolution of the successful Lock It Link series with Drop & Lock.

Drop & Lock features symbols that display credit prizes and jackpots that drop to the bottom of the display. Once a full row is filled, the symbols drop off the reels to award the displayed prizes.

Must-see products:

- OpenSports. The reimagined OpenSports platform brings together a comprehensive suite of technology that helps operators create a memorable experience for sports bettors.
- Ultimate Cash Spin on TwinStar J43 Motion Wheel. The cabinet features the U-Spin mechanic that lets players spin a wheel themselves in the newest version of Cash Spin.
- Drop & Lock on TwinStar Wave XL. The next evolution of Lock It Link will launch with two themes in November, Sweet Tweet and Deep Sea Magic.

Drop & Lock is launching with two themes in November.
